

Letter from the Editor

Dear Readers:

After more than a decade, your magazine is back on campus. For years, Medicine on the Midway has been produced by consultants. But that's changed. And so has the magazine. We are pleased to bring you a redesigned and enhanced edition of Medicine on the Midway, University of Chicago's long-standing magazine that informs alumni, friends and other supporters of the Biological Sciences Division and the Pritzker School of Medicine about our activities and achievements.

The magazine has not only a whole new look, but also new features, such as the Perspective column, which shares the in-depth opinion of a faculty member. There are also some new names for traditional fare, such as Midway News, which summarizes campus activities. And there's a new editor — yours truly — who is determined to bring you compelling stories presented in an engaging format, which ultimately will better represent your prestigious alma mater.

We hope you enjoy this issue of Medicine on the Midway, and we encourage and appreciate your comments.

Happy reading,

Catherine Gianaro
Editor
